Wood

We offer our tables in various wood types such as oak and walnut. The oak is from Europe and the walnut is from the USA, except from the Pia Chair in walnut, which is made from European walnut.

Wild oak is the same wood type as normal oak, but with more natural structure, like knots and small cracks. These knots and small cracks are filled with black putty, while smaller cracks and shakes will be filled with natural coloured putty. The natural structure in the wood may contain shakes, colour irregularities, mirror, drying stripes (tree sap that will evaporate over time), and other natural surface structures.

Our smoked oak is a so-called semi-smoked oak, where the ready-made furniture piece is placed in a sealed container with ammonia for 72 hours. During this process, the ammonia attacks the tannins, which makes the wood change colour. The dark colour will enter about 1–2 mm into the wood and give it a beautiful dark character. The final colour depends on the content of tannins in the oak, since it is the tannins that change the colour in the oak. It is not possible to foresee the final colour and colour variation, until the furniture piece has been taken out of the container. Therefore, it must be expected that large as well as small colour differences may occur on smoked oak furniture. Both on each individual furniture piece and in comparison with other furniture pieces in smoked oak, e.g. several chairs from the same production lot.

Special requests

We offer our tables in numerous sizes and with various custom-made features, like cut-outs for cable trays and other special requests. Please contact us for more information on options and prices.

Tree Table - extra length

Ten Table - extra length and width and cut-outs for cable trays

Tabletops

Solid wood is a natural material, which can be affected by changing humidity, direct sunlight, heating, etc. The thicker and wider sticks or planks, the more the tabletop will react, and small cracks and irregular surfaces may occur. The cracks most often occur in the winter months, when it is cold, and the air is dry. In most cases these cracks will contract again as soon as humidity is normalized, which often happens during the late spring.

Ex. Tree Table cracks

The Tree Table is made of two full planks, and therefore cracks will inevitably occur at the end of the tabletop, and will not necessarily contract again. Some planks may also twist.

Despite careful selection of the sticks, there will in most cases be differences between the sticks. Each individual table has its very own visual expression, and can therefore not be directly compared to other dk3 tabletops seen e.g. in a store or in a catalogue.

Extention leaves

We offer extension leaves in black MDF for all our tables. Some of the tables are also available with extension leaves in solid wood glued sticks. MDF is a form-stable and compact material, where small dust marks may appear in the lacquered surface. Solid wood is a natural material, and therefore the extension leaves may bend while stored away. Therefore, we recommend storing the extension leaves, either with air around both sides or in an air-tight bag. The extension leaves in MDF will continue to retain the same width, which will rarely be the same width as the tabletop, since the width of the solid wood tabletop will constantly change according to humidity, sunlight, season, etc. The same applies for solid wood extension leaves with reversed glued sticks compared to the tabletop

For mounting of extension leaves, please see our assembly instructions and assembly videos on www.dk3.dk.

Surface treatment

Most of our furniture is available with different surface treatments. A dk3 care kit containing surface treatment, a sanding sponge and our care instruction will be enclosed with the surface treated tables and sideboards. Please note that care kits are not available for lacquered furniture. For further information we refer to our care instructions and care videos at www.dk3.dk
